

Borges Warm-Up and Daily Drills #3

International Trombone Festival 2021

Dr. Lucas Borges

Ohio University

Like my previous Warm-Up and Daily Drills packages, this is a compilation of exercises that I learned over the years. It reflects some of my short and long-term goals as I aim to maintain and develop specific skills. The following topics frame it: (1) Stretches and Air; (2) Sound and Slow Slurs; (3) Tunes; (4) Flexibility; (5) Range; (6) Intervals, (7) Scales and Articulation; and (8) Cool Down. Please use caution, adapt the routine to your needs, and follow your teacher's advice. Finally, I highly recommend using a metronome in all exercises unless otherwise marked.

My three guiding principles to practicing are:

1. Have a clear idea of how you want to sound and strive for it always.
2. Start from a total point of comfort and gradually stretch yourself out of it.
3. Play everything with musical intent

Stretches and Air:

- 1) I highly recommend simple body stretches to prepare your body and mind for a long day of playing. Strive for relaxation and good posture.
- 2) Do simple blowing exercises focusing on the outward flow of air. Let the airflow out of your body free and relaxed.

Express Glissandi:

Start with the easiest note for you in the first position; tuning Bb is my preferred one. Start on your most comfortable note.

Tunes:

#6

Jan Kagarice

Play simple melodies by ear in several keys and different octaves. Start in a comfortable range and expand it gradually in both directions. I suggest simple songful tunes such as: "Ode to Joy", "Mary Had a Little Lamb" and "Amazing Grace".

#7

Flexibilities:

Strive for a smooth connection. Rhythmic integrity is paramount.

#8

Robert Marsteller
